

Questions tags

we use them to:
confirm information
ask for agreement

Affirmative sentences have negative tag questions, and vice-versa
We also switch the order of the auxiliary verb and subject to form them

It's cold, isn't it?

or

It's not cold, is it?

He can speak Korean, can't he?

or

He can't speak Korean, can he?

You like aubergine, don't you?

or

You don't like aubergine, do you?

You've finished the report, haven't you?

or

You haven't finished the report, have you?

They will go to the party, won't they?

or

They won't go to the party, will they?